

Student Day – Facilitator Training and Supervision on Inner Work

Arlene Audergon and Evelyn Figueroa

Monday, Feb. 5, 2007
The Resource Centre, London N7
Starting 9:30am and finishing at 4:30pm

This day will allow Process work students to deepen their training on the theory and practice of Process oriented Inner work and to get supervision on its applications.

We will focus on theory, and short inner work sequences, to practice and integrate the learning from the seminar. We will include working with dreaming, sentient and consensus reality dimensions, and how to use inner work skills within one's practice - including working on complexes, discovering where you are polarized, finding dream doors and the emergent pattern and more... We will particularly work with our body awareness and inner mapping of processes.

Cost: £75
